ARANCINI AND CHAMPAGNE EVENINGS

Indulge in Sicilian street food accompanied by elegant French fizz on Belmond Grand Hotel Timeo's celebrated Literary Terrace. Arancini—deep-fried, ragu-filled rice balls—are a delicious regional speciality with an ancient history. They were first introduced in the 800s by Arab invaders, who imported rice and saffron to the island. However, subsequent refinements, such as coating the balls in breadcrumbs to make them easily portable, have given the savoury snacks a distinctly Sicilian twist—so much so that no visit to the island is complete without a taste of a crunchy, golden arancino.

Weekly on the Literary Terrace. The day may vary according to performances at the Greek Theatre.

SICILIAN TRATTORIA NIGHT

Embrace the Sicilian spirit during this authentic evening, which sees the Pool Restaurant at Belmond Grand Hotel Timeo transformed into a traditional trattoria. Savour an array of sumptuous local dishes and enjoy a convivial atmosphere with live music.

BESPOKE CHEF'S DINNER

Celebrate a special occasion or surprise a loved one with an evening of haute cuisine exclusively imagined and prepared for you by Executive Chef Roberto Toro. He will collaborate with you to devise a unique menu, choosing the style of cuisine, the sumptuous ingredients, number of courses, wine selection and table setting. This unforgettable dining experience can be held in an enchanting, private location of your choice in the hotel or grounds and is enhanced by personalised butler service.

Suitable for couples or larger gatherings. Please book at least 2 days in advance.

PIC-CHIC

Add a touch of "chic" to your picnic by letting Executive Chef Roberto Toro conjure up an elegant alfresco spread. Whether it's lunch on the grass, on a boat or by the sea, enjoy a delicious menu that ignites the imagination and complements the locale. For example, colourful pastas that echo the picturesque views, accompanied by shrimp, mozzarella, olives, capers and tomatoes. Tasty skewers, or convenient pies filled with cheeses, meats or seasonal vegetables. And for dessert, perhaps fruit tarts or carrot, apple and chocolate cake. All packed into a beautiful basket with a bottle of sparkling rosé.

Picnics can be fully customised to your tastes and requirements. Ask the Concierge for details.

BARBECUE ON THE BEACH

Every Sunday, Belmond Villa Sant'Andrea's beach is illuminated with candles and torches and the scents of delicious grilled fish, meats and vegetables waft enticingly over the bay.

On a private sunset cruise, guided by local fishermen, you will witness intense vermilion reflections on the deep-blue water as you explore the bay's hidden coves. Visit the beautiful Grotta Azzurra, or Blue Grotto, a natural cave that plays host to a fascinating underwater world of sea urchins, shrimp, corals, occasional sponges and moray eels.

Return to the bay, where a private floating concert awaits. From their own boat, musicians and singers serenade you with opera classics, such as local composer Vincenzo Bellini's masterpiece, Norma, setting the scene for a romantic dinner either on board or in one of the luxurious cabanas on Belmond Villa Sant'Andrea's private beach.

And for a final touch, sample the Sicilian wine of love—"Lamuri"—produced with passion from a selection of Nero d'Avola grapes by local winemaker Tasca d'Almerita.

BEACH CABANAS

Located in a secluded area of the beach, the six exclusive cabanas at Belmond Villa Sant'Andrea enable guests to relax in their own personal sanctuary beside the azure sea.

Perfect for up to four people, each stylish cabana is furnished with a comfortable sofa, table, tented veranda and two sun loungers. Guests have access to soft drinks from the minibar, a bottle of sparkling wine, chilled fresh fruit, Evian water spray and complimentary WiFi. WALKING TOUR OF TAORMINA AND THE GREEK THEATRE

Perched above the turquoise sea, surrounded by mountains and with majestic Etna as a backdrop, Taormina is the pearl of Sicily.

Enjoy a private walking tour of the town, strolling down narrow backstreets, past flower-filled balconies to soak up the ambience, before viewing the magnificent Greek Theatre, adjacent to Belmond Grand Hotel Timeo. Built in the 3rd century to stage drama and musical productions, the amphitheatre was renovated and expanded by the Romans to be used for games and gladiatorial battles. It is so well preserved that it is still used today as a breathtaking setting for concerts, ballets, opera performances and awards ceremonies.

The walking tour lasts around 3 hours.
Please book at reception.

APE TOUR OF TAORMINA

Follow in the footsteps of yesteryear's Hollywood stars and celebrities by taking a spin in the world's most glamorous three-wheeler, the Ape Calessino. Starting at Belmond Grand Hotel Timeo, in the company of an expert driver, set off on a Dolce Vita Tour of Taormina.

Visit Casa Cuseni, located high above Taormina's rooftops, a beautiful, honey-stuccoed residence built by British painter Robert Kitson in the early 20th century. Linger a while at the town's Botanical Gardens before descending to the sparkling coast and Mazzarò Bay—perhaps stopping for a picnic on Isola Bella beach. Head up to the pretty hilltop village of Castelmola to gaze at the views and indulge in a glass of almond wine at Café San Giorgio, once a regular haunt of Sir Winston Churchill.

Return to Taormina for a wander along Corso Umberto I, the bustling main thoroughfare where Orson Welles, DH Lawrence and Truman Capote were known to browse. And for a glorious finale, stop for refreshment at one of Tennessee Williams' favourite watering holes, Wunderbar, admiring the panoramic vistas of the bay and Mount Etna.

Ask the Concierge to arrange your tour.

ARTISAN SHOPPING TOUR

Unearth unexpected finds on an exclusive shopping tour of Taormina and beyond, discovering sartorial experiences and irresistible Sicilian treats.

Meet local craftspeople who are still passionate about their traditions, for example Micaela Spadoni, who has put a contemporary spin on the Sicilian coffa bag, or Luigi Di Caro, who makes bespoke footwear based not only on the shape of your feet, but your personality. Visit Bronte, where the treasured pistacia vera is cultivated in Etna's fertile soils. See the nutty gems being harvested in September and sample pistachio-based delicacies, from mouth-watering ice cream to arancini, in all the local cafes.

At the family-owned shop Managò, which resembles an Aladdin's Cave of ceramics, you can discover a wealth of handcrafted pieces, including pottery from Palermo and Sciacca, and even learn the art of creating them yourself. Join an expert ceramicist to craft anthropomorphic vases, jugs, dishes or decorative objects, fire them in the ancient kiln and then paint them in ebullient local style.

BOAT TOURS OF TAORMINA BAY

Sicilian Sea Traditions

For centuries, Sicilian fishermen decorated their boats in eye-catching colours, creating vibrant, bobbing fleets that were used for fishing right up until the 1960s. Motifs such as the beautiful, tempting siren and the eye, meant to bring good luck, were commonly used in the designs.

Take an enchanting voyage in one of these comfortable, gaily painted vessels, setting off from Belmond Villa Sant'Andrea to explore the many natural attractions of the area.

Boat tours are personalised to your preferences. Please ask the Concierge for details.

The Big 5

Departing from the beach at Belmond Villa Sant'Andrea, join friendly Captain aboard his traditional boat for an excursion to five delightful stops including a chance for a refreshing swim.

- 1st stop - Blue Grotto, Taormina. The mesmerising cave is famed for its intense blue waters.
- 2nd stop - Isola Bella. This tiny island is a protected nature reserve abounding in rich vegetation, several bird species and interesting reptiles.
- 3rd stop - Cape Taormina and the Gulf of Giardini Naxos. According to legend, Naxos was created when a Greek sailor, Teocles, was so enchanted by the coastline he built a colony there.
- 4th stop - Fortune Cave. Used during World War II to hide weapons, today it is a silent cavern teeming with marine life.
- 5th stop - Return to Mazzarò and Belmond Villa Sant'Andrea via the dreamlike Sirens' Bay and intriguingly named Uncle Gennaro's Rock.

The cruise can be customised to your interests. Please ask the Concierge for details.

Ask the Concierge for details of any of the above activities.

CYCLOPS RIVIERA CRUISE

Set sail on a legendary voyage around lush, lava-strewn landscapes shaped by Europe's largest volcano and depicted in famous mythical adventures. Glide past the fishing village of Acitrezza, where eight volcanic stacks, or faraglioni, were allegedly formed by the cyclops Polyphemus hurling large boulders at Ulysses' ships. Journey through the Timpa di Acireale nature reserve and view the black lava-stone castle of Aci Castello, just one of the many 'acis' in the area named after a mortal shepherd boy with whom a sea goddess fell in love. Admire picturesque villages, verdant vegetation and one of the most beautiful protected marine areas in the world.

Fresh drinks and fruit are provided on this private charter, but if you wish to stop for lunch, the charming trattoria Il Porticciolo on the pier of Capo Mulini is heartily recommended.

A full-day, 8-hour cruise for up to 10 people leaves from Belmond's private beach in Mazzarò Bay.

AEOLIAN ISLANDS BY BOAT

Lipari and Vulcano

Lipari is the largest of the UNESCO-protected, ruggedly volcanic Aeolian Islands. Dominating Lipari Town, an impressive castle and ancient fortified walls overlook the picturesque harbour. Greek ruins, a cathedral and an archaeological museum can also be explored in the town, while elsewhere on the lush island there are white pebble beaches lapped by turquoise waters and breathtakingly beautiful coves only accessible by boat. The nearby island of Vulcano was believed by the Romans to be the home of the fire god Vulcan's workshop. Still smoking today, it draws visitors to climb the crater, explore the therapeutic mud baths and hot springs or swim off the volcanic beaches.

A full-day boat trip departs from Port of Portorosa or Milazzo at 9.30am and returns at 6.30pm.

Panarea and Stromboli

These two islands, off the north coast of Sicily, offer a contrasting Aeolian experience. Panarea, the smallest inhabited island in the archipelago, draws the international jet set, Hollywood A-listers and superyacht owners. They are not lured to glitzy attractions, but to the tranquil isolation: picturesque whitewashed streets, a handful of restaurants, bars and shops, deserted coves and crystalline waters. The more dramatic Stromboli, home to an active volcano, is where you find the spectacular Sciarra del Fuoco, a steep, incandescent lava slope that flows down from the crater into the sizzling sea and is particularly mesmerising at night.

A full-day boat trip departs from Port of Portorosa or Milazzo at 9.30am and returns at 6.30pm, or departs at 3pm and returns at 11pm.

Discover
Mount Etna

TREKKING ON ETNA

Exploring the constantly evolving lava landscapes of Europe's most impressive volcano is an unmissable highlight of a visit to Sicily. Admire the black, reds and greens of the mountains and, when the clouds clear, gain spectacular views across the island. You will trek up to an altitude of nearly 3000m, so take warm clothing and wear sturdy walking shoes/boots.

Half-day (around 5 hours) or full-day (7 hours) tours are available with an English-speaking driver in a comfortable limousine or minivan.

Various types of tours (walking, by Jeep, etc.) with different levels of difficulty can be arranged with our Concierge, who will be delighted to suggest the best excursion based on your preferences.

Here you enjoy a short, guided walk and some time at leisure to admire the views and take photographs.

You then return to the base and meet up with your driver, who will whizz you off to a boutique winery on the volcano's lower slopes. Enjoy a delectable lunch and a fantastic tasting of Etna wines led by an expert vinologist.

PIAZZA ARMERINA AND CALTAGIRONE

Situated deep in the Sicilian countryside, 721m above sea level, stands Piazza Armerina, home to the famous Villa Romana del Casale. Built in the 4th century as a Roman hunting lodge, the Villa houses an incredible collection of vivid mosaics depicting subjects ranging from mythological scenes to daily activities; a famous tableau illustrates women exercising in bikini-style garments.

The nearby baroque town of Caltagirone is known as the city of ceramics. Pottery has been a way of life here for hundreds of years as a result of an endless supply of good-quality local clay. The most popular style is majolica, a tin-glazed pottery in dazzling hues. Hand-painted tiles in vibrant blues and yellows can be seen all over the town, in houses and churches, parks and squares, and no visitor should miss the 142-step stone staircase, Scalinata di Santa Maria del Monte, which links the upper and lower towns—each step is inlaid with beautiful ceramic tiles. Caltagirone is also home to the island's Museum of Ceramics, where around 2,500 exhibits chart the industry's development from the beginning.

This full-day tour lasts around 7 hours.
